With at least 3 in support of tabling, I'm going to say this is tabled unless there is objection to that ruling and we can do an official vote.

I agree with tabling this and discussing further at convention. We should make a list of banks with wide presence and see if any of those will suit our needs.

Yeah, we end up with people having to drive all over no matter what. So we need to think of another approach.

OK. I don't have any problem with tabling it for now to think about it, but we should definitely discuss it at State Convention.

The issue is that county parties change treasurers and so does the state party. So there's always a reason to be getting new signature cards signed at the bank.
I think we need to think about this one longer and would suggest we table this for now.

LPKY will have a hard time getting a treasurer willing to travel to all of the counties in Kentucky to open and close bank accounts along with all of the rest of the paperwork. We don't seem to have that many active, retired members.
Each county party would only have to make one trip to the bank, though.

The motion is open for discussion.
I understand where this comes from, but I think this may be a source of additional issues. Unless we choose an institution with physical locations throughout KY, there will be issues opening accounts and dealing with any problems that require an in-person visit to resolve.
There are very few banks that operate statewide in KY so the options would be very limited.
I believe an alternative solution should be sought to address the issue.
My immediate thought is to make the state treasurer the assistant treasurer of all affiliates as a non-voting ex-officio officer. That provides the ability to transfer funds, opportunity to help affiliates directly, and provide oversight for kref compliance. We could also provide for a preference of banking institution if available in the region.

I second this motion so we can open discussion

I move that the Libertarian Party of Kentucky (LPKY) adopt a policy requiring all recognized county affiliate parties to maintain their primary operational bank accounts at the same financial institution currently utilized by the LPKY State Executive Committee. Furthermore, all existing affiliates shall be given a period of [e.g., 90 days] to transition their accounts to the designated institution to ensure full compliance.
